Rider buried near Cooke City, close call

Miller Mtn. Cooke City 2/25/2025 Code HS-AMu Latitude 45.04650 Longitude -109.97700 Notes

We received a call (from a third party) about a snowmobiler that was buried with their head 5 feet below the snow and their foot sticking out of the snow. Their partners saw the foot and dug them out. The riders face was blue, but quickly became responsive after a "chest thump".

They were riding on the north side of Miller Mtn. Given the widespread winds and drifting, we suspect it was likely a hard wind slab avalanche similar to one spotted on Crown Butte the same day.
